

*Exposure to Violence:
A Significant
Issue for Children and Families*

PROTECTING CHILDREN

A Professional Publication of American Humane

Volume 22, Numbers 3 & 4, 2007

AMERICAN HUMANE

Protecting Children & Animals Since 1877

Page 2

Acknowledgments

Leslie Wilmot, MSSW

Page 3

Exposure to Violence: A Significant Issue for Children and Families

Elena P. Cohen, MSW

Page 6

A New Scale for Assessing Child Exposure to Domestic Violence

Narae Shin, MA, and Jeffrey L. Edleson, PhD

Page 10

Research Directions in Child Neglect and Exposure to Violence

Valerie Maholmes, PhD, CAS, Carol E. Nicholson, MD, MS, FAAP, Lynne M. Haverkos, MD, MPH, and Cheryl A. Boyce, PhD

Page 20

The Co-Occurrence of Community Violence and Child Maltreatment Among Racially Diverse Adolescents: Assessing Risk for Mental Health and Behavior Problems

Eugene Aisenberg, PhD, Antonio Garcia, MSW, Cecilia Ayón, MSW, Penelope K. Trickett, PhD, and Ferol E. Mennen, PhD

Page 32

Cultural Diversity and Children Exposed to Family Violence: Issues in Adapting Interventions

Renee McDonald, PhD, and Nancy A. Skopp, PhD

Page 45

Silent Victims: Issues and Interventions for Children Exposed to Violence

Marian S. Harris, PhD, LICSW, ACSW

Page 54

No Wonder We Are Dizzy, We Are Running Around in Circles: The Impact of Exposure to Violence on Adolescents

Elena P. Cohen, MSW, and Lonna Davis, MSW

Page 66

Animal Maltreatment in the Ecology of Abused Children: Compelling Research and Responses for Prevention, Assessment, and Intervention

Phil Arkow

Page 80

The Safe Start Initiative: Advancing System and Practice Responses to Children Exposed to Violence

Mary M. Hyde, PhD, Kristen Kracke, Lisa Jaycox, PhD, and Dana Schultz, MPP

Page 96

Effective Components of Community Prevention and Intervention Programs for Young Children Exposed to Violence

Sandra Ortega, PhD, Antoine Beauchemin, BS, and Michelle Goots, BS
